

CHARACTERISTICS OF THE ARAB SOCIETY

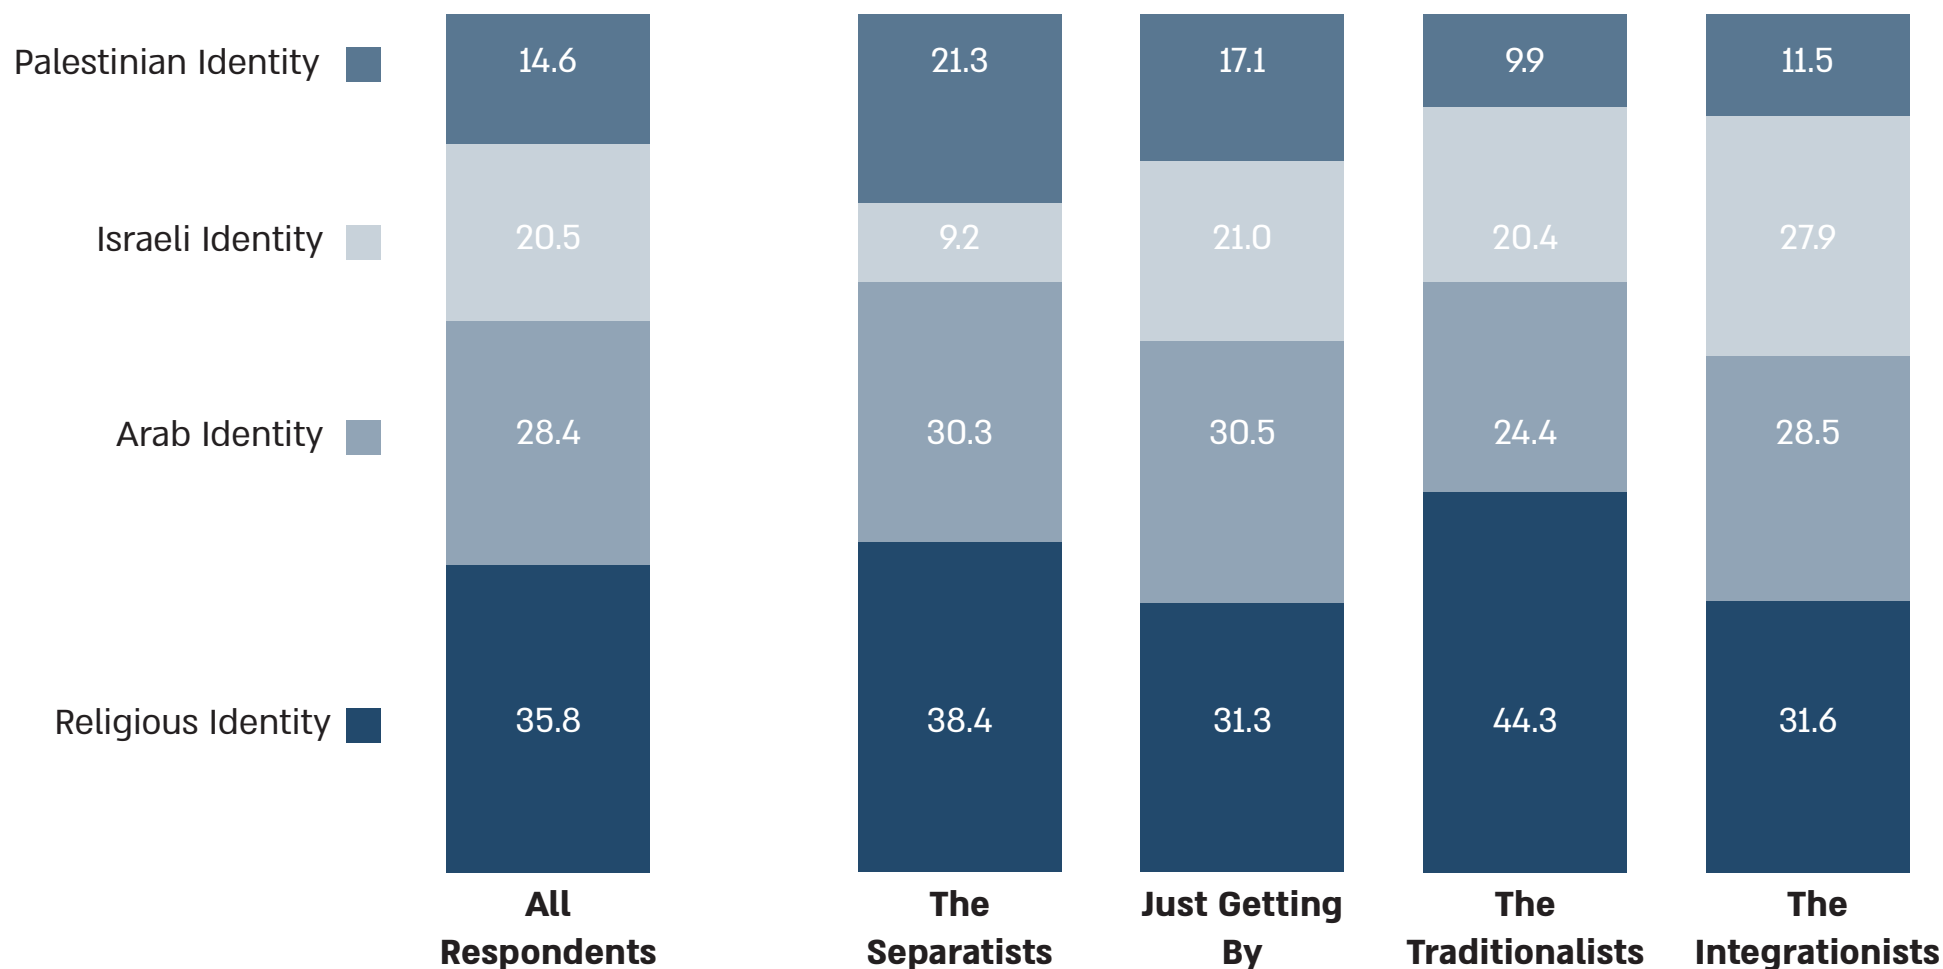

METHODOLOGY

- We carried out a national telephone survey of a representative sample of 1,000 Arab Citizens of Israel
- The margin of error for the survey is +/- 3.2%
- The data were collected from the third week of January 2017 until the second week of February 2017

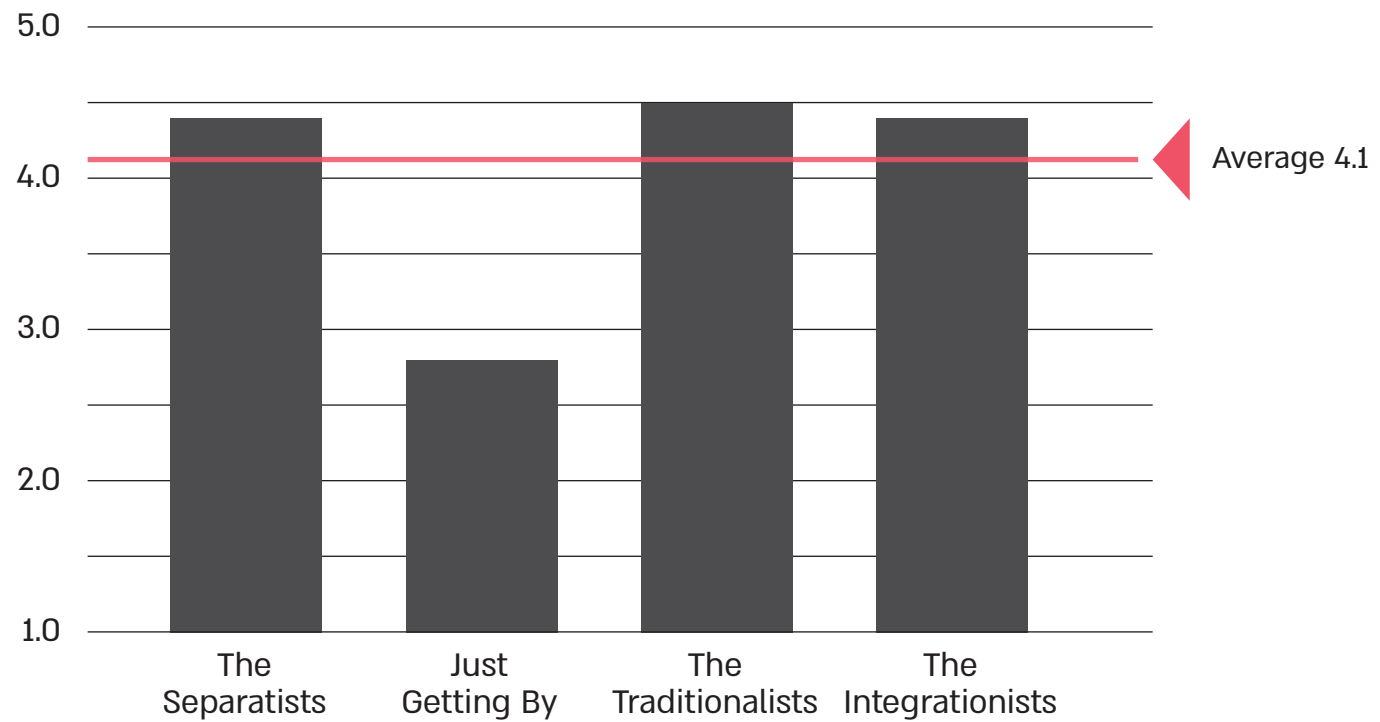

BREAKDOWN OF THE SUBGROUPS BY DEFINITIONS OF IDENTITY

Religious identity is the most dominant for all subgroups, but especially among the "Traditionalists." Palestinian identity is more dominant among the members of the "Separatists" subgroup. Israeli identity is more dominant among the "Integrationists" and much less among the "Separatists."

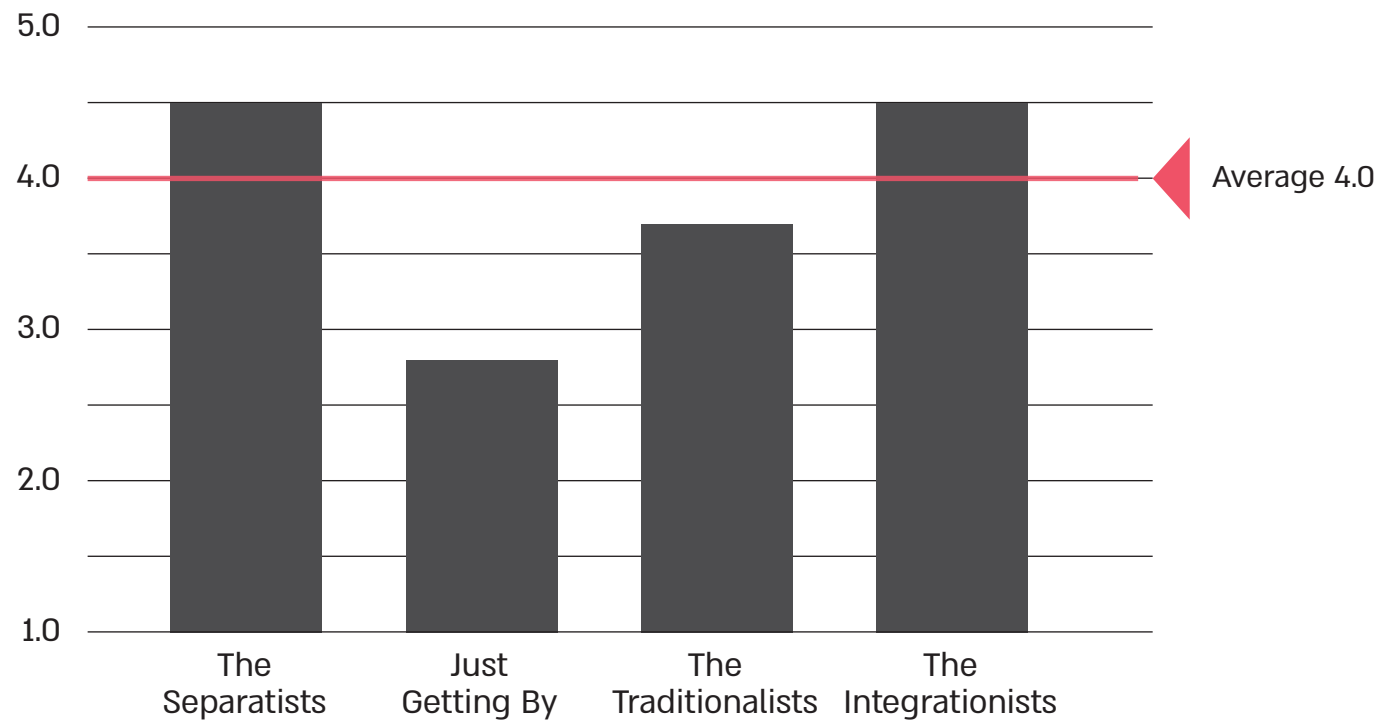

SATISFACTION WITH LIFE

All in all, I am satisfied with my life
